The International Shaw Society is proud to announce the establishment of three paper prizes to be awarded at the 2027 "Bernard Shaw and the Roaring Twenties" Conference at the London School of Economics (LSE), June 7-10, 2027.

A committee comprised of seasoned Shaw Scholars will consider all papers presented, selecting two for "Best Essay from an Early Career Scholar/Graduate Student" awards and a third to receive the "Best in Conference" designation. Their assessment will consider the originality, execution, and persuasiveness of each essay's argument as well as the proficiency of its presentation (including clarity of delivery, pace and timing, and accessibility).

In addition to a cash prize, recipients will also receive editorial mentorship in developing their essays into full-length article submissions for publication consideration in SHAW: The Journal of Bernard Shaw Studies.
